

Scientific Advisory Committee Agreement

When joining the Brain Injury Canada Scientific Advisory Committee (SAC), I agree to the best of my ability to:

1. Participate in any requests for information.
2. Provide my time and expertise in relation to reviewing content prior to its publication by the organization.
3. Work with the Brain Injury Canada team should they require first-person content such as quotes and videos.
4. Support Brain Injury Canada's future endeavours through feedback, information, and/or letters of support.
5. Share program and event information within my professional network, including patients, clients, colleagues, and/or research partners.
